In Parenthesis

As of Yore

Modern Mother-But doctor, don't you think castor oil is a very oldfashioned remedy to give baby? Doctor-Madam, babies are oldfashioned things.

In Court

"Do you plead guilty or not guilty?" inquired the magistrate's clerk.

. . .

"Guilty," replied the prisoner. viction." Laughter.

. . .

The Threat

forty spotted mice.

pany crowded in his wake, jostling inns.

dead, faced them and said in a loud, fierce voice: -"Now them, all of you -if you don't leave me alone I'll reverence. Potatoes are not undertake two aspirins and make you all stood in Japan. Nor is salt. Salt is disappear!"

Well, I'll Tell You-Hollywood, Cal.

I believe opportunity knocks once on everybody's door, but the younger you are, the more apt you are to get excited and scare him away. If he'll iest wait to knock after vou've had a few years to mellow your life and give you a little experience, you'll be able to answer the door more calmly.

I had one uncle who had been workin' for years as watchman down in the railroad yards and had given up all hopes of ever betterin' himself. money."-By Bob Burns.

News of the Rest will be distinguished by bloaters sus-Minister hopes to know where he is. All the chiming clocks in Paris than might be supposed. struck last night.

A frog has nested in a milk bottle sister-in-law."

Evan Evan Evans, a farmer many big changes, dear me, but attributes his good health to bicycling round the kitchen for an hour a day. He has 4,000 grandchildren. * * *

A Bit About Life

him over the head with a bowl containing goldfish. Quotation from a review of a novel.

"Just why did you do that?" said Hotel does attract most travellers to Tom moodily. There was water down tarry a while. his neck. He felt uncomfortable. "In my day," replied her mother, rescuing the goldfish and dropping them in a flower vase, "you men did was the Naraya Inn which lies just their old-time folk dances while the not sock their fiancées in the eye." below the lordly Fujiya, and which large audience sat round in groups She rang for a maid to clean up the is a Japanese inn where there is enjoying their wine, the dances and that nice Mr. Wynterbottome."

answer?" mother abruptly.

A Bit About Steppes

My pet music critic-Oboe! What tone!-says that Alexander Gretchaninoff "is known only in England by his immortal song, "The Dreary Steppe."

Words are tricksy things. Not all of us know what a Russian steppe is. Indeed, we have every excuse for confusing it with an English step of whitens so assiduously-especially in view of the existence of ye olde immortal Englysshe song. "A-syttynge on ye steppe." How does it go I doe implore my swetcharte's doore To open verie soone:

I lacke alle peppe, here on ye steppe, A-syttynge on my owne. Should sleepe betide, a strynge I've

To warn me of her charmes: And soe I wayte for Kate, who's

To tryppe into my armes. The music, of course, is by Purcell, who also composed "Poppe goes ye Weasylle." This rollicking song was a favourite of Charles II. Whenever he sang it he made Nell Gwynne.

FROM THE "NORTH-CHINA DAILY News," of June 14, 1877.

down over the face. After the ceremony had been gone through, the lady good legible Chinese characters.

ships between Hongkong and Foochow. the view of starting a line of vessels between Amoy and Formosan ports.

JAPAN'S MARCH OF MODERNISM

Communications Excellent Throughout Country

MEDICINAL QUALITIES OF HOT SPRINGS

By THEOPHILUS

For the moment we have left the remote areas of Japan and betaken ourselves to the beaten tracks. We "I must warn you," said the magis- have fared well on Japanese foods. trate, "that your remark carries con- and the tendency has been to eat delicious things all day long. This is the land of cakes, sweets, fish and fruit. Our diet, including as it has oysters, lobsters, celery and asparagus, A man in full evening dress has been even dainty: and, as I reentered Hyde Park early one morn- marked before, the amenities of ing followed by two pink elephants, Japan are enjoyed by all, and the ten blue cats, a lavender giraffe, and modernism is not limited to the beaten tracks, but extends to the When he noticed this motley trope most remote areas. That is the ashe tried to wave them away, but they tonishing thing, and in my travels I continued to trot along behind him, have been constantly and perpetually He paused several times, looked amazed at the excellence of comback, and cried "Shoo, all of you." munications all over the country, and But in vain! The fantastic com- at the high quality of the Japanese each other and treading on his heels. Nevertheless the diet is different At Stanhope Gate the man stopped to the one to which I am accustomed. Now that I am for the moment back in a centre like Miyanoshita I regard get this the potatoes on my plate almost with (put into the cooked food, but it rarely served at table in a Japanese inn. Again, bread is obtainable in shops and restaurants, but it does not often find a place at meal times where its substitute of course is rice. Similarly you can buy excellent milk. but tea is commonly served without it, and since there is no bread at the table there can be no use for butter You get sugar in chocolates and sweets, but it is usually served in single lumps.

Necessaries Procurable

One day a lawyer called on him and of these commodities than one is nor- of the Lamas, with good ham sandsaid "I just received word that one mally accustomed to, though, as I wiches, Chinese sweet meats, border ten dollars." My uncle says "Are you say, you have got to ask for bread, sausages and Chengtu spirits, it loses sure?" and the lawyer says "Yes and butter, milk, sugar and salt, and they a great deal of its dangerous effect you'll get the ten dollars just as soon are usually procurable. Perhaps I on the unsuspecting inhabitants of the as the estate is settled." My uncle have been careless in these matters, frontier. Tachienlu has been en fête says "Well, that's fine, but I ain't but the fact remains that I have lost to-day and hundreds of children and gonna take no chances-I'm gonna a whole stone in three months, and thousands of people dressed in their hold on to my job until I get the that I have grown rather thin. I am not very best spent the day at the difsure that this is wholly a bad thing, ferent lamaseries. Here on the beaten track, with three | Wherever dishes and tents could be meaty meals constantly available. I torrowed they were borrowed and all see about me a number of gross people yesterday, Sunday, elaborate prepara-Officials on the agricultural side who might well go off to my frugal tions were made for this, the great of the Ministry of Agriculture and Japanese inns and reduce their girth day of the fast. Lamaism has been Fisheries will, in future, wear straws a little. For me guzzling is a passing successful, at least in one direction, in their hair. Those on the fishy side indulgence, but I shall be back on namely, in popularizing religion and the local diet before long: and may the ordinary inhabitants on the Roof pended from their necks. Thus the I say that it is one to which you of the World do love and appreciate become accustomed far more easily a religious festival with lots of wine preserved an early pamphlet of 1884 finished to-day. Year by year this at Gravesend. "Its face," said the describing how tourists in the neigh- festival is becoming more and more house-holder, "reminds me of my bourhood could be provided with popular and this year it touched high where but in the Land of the Lamas. porters and ponies at reasonable water mark. Swindon police are caring for a rates. It is curious to reflect that I The lamas in the Forbidden Land Rochdale mouse that was found sing- myself can recollect those vanished have given the accumulation of merit ing its way to London. It has stated times. I passed through Japan in a very wide and convenient range, fant with all the bona fide marks of that its ambition is to be like Gra-a- 1912, spending a brief fortnight in the Merit may be obtained by inviting a reincarnation. The last country: but it was just long enough the lamas to one's home to read the apparently proved quite a fiasco and to enable me to appreciate how mar- sacred books and repeat their of Llanllanllanydd, has celebrated his vellous has been the development voluminous prayers, by circum-107th birthday. He says he has seen in the interval. I remember those ambulating any and every holy object; porters very well, and how they by making mud images and erecting nothing like enough small change. He carried my baggage at a brisk pace mani mounds, by fasting and prayer round the base of Fuji. cars rush you over the country with and repeating "Oh Mani Pad Me speed and comfort. You can easily Hum. Tom actually assaulted the girl- run up to Miyanoshita in a day from gave her a black eye, and might have Tokyo, and tour about a bit round killed her if her mother had not hit by Harkone, and be back in Tokyo next afternoon. It is wicked to rush it: but it can be done, and alas too many people do it. But the Fujiya

Better Quality Inns

excellent accommodation (with break- | the cakes. Tom lit a cigarette, and turned to fast and dinner included) for 6 Y. a the open window of the fifth floor day. The Japanese inns in these morning opened bright and beautiful flat. Her mother followed him and holiday resorts are of a higher quality as a glorious sun shone from a clear, pushed him out. "Now," she said to than those in other places, at least blue sky. To conclude a two-week's her daughter, "you can see more of higher than any other inns I have fast the day was perfect. On this seen: and they are a revelation. The last great day of the fast, relatives "Oh. I don't know," sighed the girl. Naraya, like dozens of other hostels of those who have been fasting go "What does it all mean? What is the in these mountains, and in the neigh- out in state to bring home their "A bowl of goldfish," replied her of polished woodwork. The floors mothers and nieces bring home their gleam at you, and are smooth to the aunts. Women as a general rule are > teen mats in all. The balcony, where cells of the different priests. there were chairs and tables, looked down into a carp pool, an enchanting garden and to mountains beyond. Elsewhere in Japan (and my exper- spread and history of Lamaism there chairs are very rarely provided in religious calendar to that of the Japanese inns, where ordinarily they churches in other countries, specially would ruin the soft matting floor. of the Episcopal and Catholic church-But in the holiday resorts tables and es. Lent as a general rule coincides chairs on the balcony are now almost with the Tibetan fourth moon which the rule, and it is interesting to ob- frequently occurs in the month of serve that the Japanese themselves April. The lama calendar also has evidently appreciate them.

the mat dictates both the size of the Demon of Bad Luck; Feast of the room and the nature of the furniture) Dead, All Souls Day; the Picture seems to be on the way to solution. Feast; and the Feast of Lanterns. The chairs and tables often have sledge feet which do no damage at Happy month, is outstanding in the all to the straw.

Hot Spring Baths

I really had meant to tell you something about the exquisite scenery of Miyanoshita and Harkone, and about the loveliness of Fuji when its snowy cone hangs, as if swimming in the atmosphere, between earth and heaven. But pernaps you have guide book handy: so I will take you for a hot spring bath instead.

> the bathroom of the Naraya inn is particularly inviting. There is only Dehwajen, the lama's paradise. Jenone naked old gentleman in it, and when he leaves we have the room to ourselves. In a twin bath beyond the frosted glass partition Alice is Lamas-is prayed to by Tibetans all enjoying herself in an exactly similar place for ladies. The men's room is all over the land of Tibet, men and wide, and built of clean white Japanese cedar. The floor is of wood. The bath itself is of wood also. Hot water rises up into it from the volcanic earth, and flows away silently the Great Pitier.

over the edges of the pool. skin gleams in it whitely, and my these different forms, however, of medicinal quality, but I don't know Chinese and Tibetan authorities note began, local time, at 4.45 and conwhat it is. I am merely aware of a the numerous fast days-lamas and tinued till after 6 a.m. At times the feeling of perfect mental and bodily drabas in the larger institutions are broadcast came through beautifully

TROUBLE IN THE MARKET ZOO

month, Fa Hsien and Hsuen Chiang, two widely travelled Buddhists, have written on Tibetan fasts. Is there, one might ask, any relation whatever between the Christian calendar and that followed by the lamas? There is a similarity in fetasts; is there a

Reincarnation of Dalai Lama

from Chungking reporting the reincarnation of the Dalai Lama somewhere in the foothills round the famous Mt. Omei. The child is supposed to have been born in some poor home and apparently has satisfied those who know and recognize the marks of a Living Buddha, Such information, if true, will soon spread, and in a short time it should be known along the border. In the long line of thirteen Dalai Lamas, history

China and people in Tachienlu are somewhat sceptical about the birth

The year rolls by and no indication of this famous reincarnation, any comes from Lhasa that any definite search is being made to find the in-those in authority are moving, if at all, very cautiously. It may be that the old lama prophecy that Pulai

of central Asia be without a Dalai

Roof of the World and will Lamaland, long closed to the outsider, be an

Traveller Departs

departure of Mr. W. H. Potts fcr

Firmingham, Mr. Potts left England

Australia. Near Adelaide he joined a to meet a young American with his private yacht apparently interested in the cinema business. Potts joined the company and sailed up the

Barrier Reef towards New Guinea

Arriving at Port Moresby the young

Englishman did considerable explor-

Dutch New Guinea Mr. Potts sailed up into the Dutch Indies. Picking up a boat at Sourabaya he went on to Japan and from there to Shanghai.

He did a little journalism along the vay and he now has the ambition to write a book on travel. He had a rough time coming up the Yangtze having to change boats a number of times between Ichang and Chung-overland by bus, first to Chengtu, then to Yachow and from Yachow he travelled eight days on foot to Ta-he managed to get along doing his own cooking with an Australian billy.

He is now on the long stretch between Tachienlu and Likiang, having left this city on Coronation Day. He may get through; he may not; but he is bravely taking his chance and quite

He was fortunate in meeting a large prepared for one thing or the other.

cpium caravan on its way back to Likiang. With one servant and three animals he said good-bye to Tachienlu trusting his star to take him

Coronation Service Heard

The second event of interest was safely to the South of the Clouds.

With half a dozen words of Chinese king. From Chungking he travelled

After a year or so in British and ing along the New Guinea rivers.

and Tasmania. Later he went

Lama? Will it mean a change has not recorded one born

A letter arrived a few days ago similarity in origin?

LAMA RELIGIOUS FESTIVAL

After Two-Weeks Fast, Adherents Enjoy Wines and the words "Long Live the King." As Delicacies: Reincarnation of Dalai Lama Rumoured Tachienlu are not good but some-Tachienlu, May 17. Religion may be an opiate to people So I dare say one gets much less but when mixed, as it is in the Land and cakes thrown in. The present In the Fujiya Hotel here there is fast started two weeks ago and across the Harkone mountains and by donating gifts to the black, red or yellow lamaseries and by turning Now trains and motor buses and the prayer wheel, counting the rosary.

Binding to Nothing

Lamas and drabas round Tachienlu are neither ashamed of their religion nor their worldly pleasures. Religion as the Tibetan draba understands it is something that binds him to nothing. In the fasting festival which ended to-day there were all kinds of religious dances games and sports. The young Tibetan women of Ta-But what interested me even more chienlu were called upon to dance

And nature was very kind. The bourhood of Nikko too, is a dream friends. Daughters bring home their not permitted to reside in Tibetan For my Y.12 (my daughter is travel- lamaseries but during this time of ling with me) we had an enormous fasting the hard and fast rule is double room which could be divided laid aside and many women take up for the night by screens. It was six- their residence in the comfortable

Similar to Other Religions Whatever may be the origin, ience is now growing) tables and are many striking similarities in its its Feast of Flowers; its chase and The matting problem (and in Japan expulsion of the "Scapegoat," the But the fourth moon, the Earth Tibetan religious calendar. The Tibetens leave their homes, the lamas desert their temples, the drabas forsake their cells, the hermits renounce their caves and all seek to dwell in tents, at least during part of the fourth moon. Special worship also made to the Great Pitier. Jenrehzee of whom all the Dalai Lamas are reincarnations, Jenrehzee. according to Lamaism. looks down in pity and mercy on a weary, struggling, sinful humanity and offers his I am tired after a long day, and help and guidance in escaping from the Wheel of Life and in reaching rehzee more than Jambehyang or Chanadorje - the three great incarnations in the Land of over the Roof of the World. From women, lama and nomad pray to Jenrehzee, whose incarnation on earth is the Dalai Lama, and who seeks Fasting, confession and listening to I step slowly in, and sink myself up the law read by some cultured lama. to the chin, sending, by my displace- and the doing of innumerable good ment, a small tidal wave across the deeds, is devoutly observed every 100m. The water is so clear that my fourth moon along the frontier. Among limbs take on a tenuous elongation, religious exercise fasting seems to listening-in to the Coronation service I suppose these springs have some occupy an important place. Both up here on the Tibetan border. It supposed to fast four days every and we followed step by step the

to fulfil the benevolent purposes of service in the Abbey. There were thrilling moments when the announcer said. "The Archbishop places the crown on the King's head." The music from the great organ in the Abbey was distinctly heard and also a rule the static conditions round times messages are picked up from different parts of the world.

The third event of importance was the departure of Mr. Hanson-Lowe and Mr. Floyd Johnston for Litang, Kanse and Dawo, on May 14. Mr. Hanson-Lowe is studying glaciation on the Roof of the World and is tremendously interested in the subject of the movements of continents. He lovely to watch. has written numerous papers on glaciation and kindred subjects. He is also a keen geographer and very much interested in the great land movement. The Academia Sinica is following his work and is doing all it can to facilitate his studies through-

Rumours persist of trouble Eastern Tibet and the latest is an insurrection in Chatrin, south litang. Mr. Potts is travelling along one side of Chatrin and Mr. Hanson-Lowe along another and both may hear wild rumours of what is going on in this wild and turbulent part of Sikang. Chatrin is inhabited by a lawless and truculent tribe of Tibeans whose allegiance wavers between Nanking and Lhasa. Sometimes this a hollow square in proper Chinese dangerous people will burn a lamasery fashion. Possibly these rooms may and on another occasion they will be intended for rest and meditation, destroy the Chinese yamen. And or even for recreation. They are what determines their course of ac- similar in style to the large hall, but tion is not easy to discover.

No "Soft" Appointment

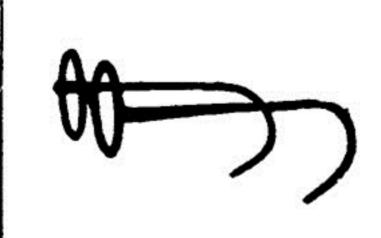

When the Sikang Administration invites a Chinese magistrate to pro-No. 13 would be the last will come ceed to Chatrin there is no great rush for the position. The present magistrate is controlling Chatrin from the safe distance of Litang and behind the safe protection of the Chinese garrison. There are two Tibetan chieftains in Chatrin who have fought each other for years and if the Chinese magistrate's yamen is unfortunate enough to come between the opposing forces-well then, look out! Apparently nothing can be done with this wild and lawless tribe and Mr. Chao. Warden of the Marches, with a large army at his disposal left Sikang without being able to subdue the Chatrinwa. It will be a thorn in the side of the Sikang Administration until it is controlled from the air.

SOOCHOW SPORTS MEETING FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT

Soochow, June 11. The third field meet of the Second District of Kiangsu opened here yesterday with representatives from eight cities as follows: Changchow, Wusih, Kiangyin, Taichang, Dzangzok, Quinsan, Ng Kaung and Soochow. Good representations came from each the form of government on the place and the District Chairman, Mr. Shih Kwe-ling, worked out a very good plan for ushering and directing open country and no longer a land the meet.

The meet will continue for three days and all outdoor sports are being held on the Soochow University Among the interesting events in campus. Preliminary trials and heats Tachienlu during last week was the were held yesterday. The following team games are listed: football Yünnan, Burma, India and home to basketball, tennis, baseball, volleyball and Track. The pingpong tournament two years ago on a windjammer for is being held at the Kong Hong Institutional Church in the centre of steamship plying between Adelaide the city. Sydney and had the good luck he saw the best specimens of athletes that have thus far assembled in Soochow. When such meets become the rule China can soon build up teams that can meet any competition.

LET US QUOTE

Before deciding on your new pair of eye-glasses. Come and inquire prices from us.

LAZARUS . PTICIANS

126 Nanking Road

TAO YUAN SOCIETY IN TSINAN

Sect Based on Good Points of

Five Great Religions EXTENSIVE BUILDINGS

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT

BEING ERECTED

Tsinan, Sung, June 9. If the erection of new and costly buildings is any criterion of a city's prosperity, Tsinan must be doing well, in spite of all the doleful tales of businessmen.

members of the Tao Yuan, or Red Swastika Society, that institution which professes to combine the good points of five great religions in its teachings, erected a large hall. Now further extensive building are process of erection on adjacent land. The Tao Yuan began its life nearly 20 years ago in an unpretentious courtyard in a quiet, residential street. Without changing the location, the heads of this body have acgrown some of the older buildings of the Tao Yuan. have been given over to its use, this change being made possible by the erection of the new hall.

This hall is a really fine building It is put up in a style reminiscent of the Imperial Palace or Tai Miao in Peiping. It stands on a stone terrace, approached by broad flights of steps and surrounded by a low stone parapet. On the south, the terrace is widened out to form a square platform, roofed over, like the oldstyle theatrical stage. The hall has concrete window frames, so planned that the general effect is very similar to that of the wooden-latticed windows of many Chinese temples. The roof is covered with shining green tiles which must have come from Peiping. These shimmer in the sunlight, giving off iridescent light very

Dedicatory Tablets

Inside this well-proportioned hall are scores of tablets dedicated to the deities and holy men of many faiths. The names of the Virgin Mary and her Son, of Old and New Testament characters are found alongside Lao Tzu, Mahomet and other great ones. But the majority of the tablets seem to bear names familiar to Buddhism. There are no images, no pictures of these people, just wooden tablets such as are found in the family temples of wealthy Chinese. To the east, west and south of the large hall three more buildings are in course of erection, so completing not quite so elaborate, nor are they roofed with the beautiful green tiles Stone and concrete are the materials used in these buildings, and the general effect is that of a job where no metric Eye Specialists in China expense has been spared.

Planchette Fortune-Telling

Superstition plays an important part in the Tao Yuan ceremonies, the chief of which is fortune-telling by means of a large wooden planchette that writes messages in sand. These communications from the spirit worl are supposed to guide any who seek for advice or comfort. Some years ago a foreigner, living near to the Tao Yuan, received a request to translate into English a message that had just come, viâ the planchette, from the Virgin Mary, She, using the Chinese language, had sent a special greeting to a Roman Catholic assembly It is not quite two years since the about to meet at Lourdes. In former years outsiders were allowed to visit the Tao Yuan and even to see the large planchette at work, but now-a-days such acts of friendship are discouraged, nor are the members of the society communicative about what goes on within the

That philanthropy is an important part of their scheme of things is evident. The school already menquired more and more land, the total tioned has a well-equipped playvalue of which must be enormous. ground, where the children may The first extension they made was amuse themselves after school is over. to procure some property on which as well as during the regular recreato open a women's branch of the tion periods. Outside the city is a society and to house a primary school fair-sized hospital run by the Red for poor children. As the school has | Swastika Society, the medical branch

STEARNS

SHAVING

CREAM

ONLY Foreign Registered Opto-

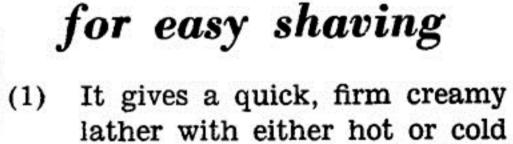

We specialise in eliminating shortsight, having in two decades of practice originated an effective technique.

250 NANKING ROAD Largest, Most Modern, Best-equipped

Drink

Use STEARNS SHAVING CREAM

water. Leaves the skin clean, smooth, and with no disagreeable after-

Softens the toughest beard without irritation to the skin and is ideal for those who shave twice daily.

$1.40 per tube

Obtainable at all Pharmacies

smarting.

Agents: WATSON'S

TO MEN who worry about MONEY

SPEND MORE WITHOUT FEELING THE STRAIN

Anyone who genuinely tries to provide for the future of himself and his dependants is under a tremendous strain. He scrapes and saves to meet possibilities which life insurance can completely cover, at a fraction of the outlay. What life insurance GIVES is far more than life insurance takes. Do you realise how it can ease the strain on every prudent man? How the man who is adequately insured can spend more money, carefree, than the man who is not? When your risks are adequately covered, you can spend up to the hilt with an easy mind. GIVES YOU MAXIMUM PROTECTION A man aged 35 can provide his wife with £20 a month for 15 years for an annual outlay of £65-18-0—a little over £5 a month.

Directly you have deposited your first instalment, you provide your wife with the Company's guarantee to meet these payments regardless when your death may occur and for a period which, if death occurs early in life, will look after your children until they are self-supporting. Isn't this much easier on the mind than trying to provide them with £3,600 out of your own pocket?

You can provide for them on any scale of living they enjoy to-day and you can do this by easy instalments, monthly if more convenient.

We ask everyone who worries about money to write for details of our Guaranteed Maximum Protection Policy. Please use the Coupon below. You will incur no obligation.

> Graeme D. Nicholl Manager for North China

The MANUFACTURERS LIFE

Insurance Co. of Canada

Chief Office for North China: Hamilton House, Shanghai ASSETS OVER £29,000,000

Incorporated in Canada, 1887, as a Limited Liability Company.

COUPON	Please let me have full particulars of your GUARANTEED MAXIMUM PROTECTION Policy, without obligati
Name
	•••••••••••••••••••••••••••••••••••••••
	•••••••••••••••••••••••••••••••••••••••

THE MANUFACTURERS LIFE INSURANCE CO. P. O. Box 525, Hamilton House, Shanghai,